Announcing the Launch of a New Special Interest Group

Spirituality and Education

ONLINE

Wednesday 24 April 2024, 13:00—14:00 BST

This SIG invites participation from those interested in the interplay of spirituality and education in all of its diverse forms — from early childhood education to adult, further and higher education, as well as in professional contexts, voluntary organizations and community settings. It will enable participants to explore how spirituality relates to their varied but complementary interests in practices, theories and policies associated with education, teaching and learning throughout the life course.

You are warmly invited to join the conversation!
